A person is standing on a long, narrow pier that extends into the ocean. The scene is captured at sunset or sunrise, with a warm, golden light illuminating the water and the sky. The person is silhouetted against the bright light, looking out towards the horizon. The pier is made of concrete or stone and has a dark, reflective surface. The water is choppy with small waves.

Live remix-performance by Abbott, plus special guests Big Mister Doom, Cabaret Electronica and DJ Lawrence Clark
